WILSON READY TO TELL ARMED SHIP DECISION Kaiser's Ally Asserts Right to Sink Merchantmen

UNDER GRILLING 2 ADMIT INDIA REVOLT PLOT IN NEW YORK

Accused Say They Received
$60,000 From Wolff
von Igel

HINDU AND GERMAN AWAIT ARRAIGNMENT

Other Arrests Are Expected;
$2,000,000 Propaganda
Fund Alleged

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Dr. Chanader Chakiberty, a Hindu physician, and Dr. Ernest Scgunner, a German, are under arrest at New York police headquarters, charged with "settling on foot a military expedition against a friendly nation." They will be arraigned today before Federal authorities. The two admitted, after a grilling lasting from 7 o'clock last night to 5 this morning, that they had received $60,000 from Wolff von Igel, alleged German plotter.

The object of the plot, according to the police, was to start a revolution in India. The two men were taken from a sumptuous furnished apartment at 364 West One Hundred and Twentieth street, where, detectives stated, they found a quantity of mysterious chemicals, pamphlets for inciting the Hindus to revolt, and a large amount of aluminum caps, shaped like pill boxes.

Plot Revealed
Sekunner's confession is said to have revealed the plot. It is declared to have been corroborated by his Hindu companion. He is said to have told the police that Chakiberty went to Germany some time ago, traveling as a Persian under a false passport. He returned with information, it is said, and reported to Von Igel in Washington.

Von Igel, it is said, gave the men $60,000 for carrying on their operations.

The police declare other arrests are expected. The connection of a Chinese, who is said to have agreed to get munitions into India from China, is being investigated.

Sailing for Home
Von Igel is now on the Frederick VIII, homeward bound with Count von Bernstorff, having had his $25,000 bond under a conspiracy indictment, released the day before the ship sailed. He was held along with Hans Taucher, Krupp agent in the United States, in connection with the Welland Canal plot. Von Igel was given safe conduct as a member of the German ambassador's party. It was indicated, when his bond was lifted, that the Department of Justice at Washington approved his release and return to Germany.

Since the departure of Bernstorff there have been reports of a $2,000,000 propaganda fund left here to be used by German agents working for some unknown new chief.

WARNER HORNE MUST FACE TRIAL

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The supreme court today dismissed the appeal of Warner Horne, German suspect, charged with attempting to dynamite a bridge over the Maine-Canadian border, and must face trial.

NEW ARREST MADE IN EXPLOSION PLOT

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—The Hoboken police today arrested Hans Schwartz as an accomplice of Fritz Kollb. The police believe that the two men planned to set bombs in Black Tom terminal and destroy vast quantities of munitions.

"MADNESS TO QUIT ALLIES," SAYS JAP PREMIER

TOKIO, Mar. 6.—Japan knows full well where her true interests lie and would be committing an act of sheer madness if she attempted to violate her plighted faith with the allies," Field Marshal Count Seiki Terauchi, premier of Japan, told the United Press in an exclusive statement today.

What Is Santa Ana's Greatest Need?

At the M. & M. luncheon tomorrow the speakers are to give answers to the question—
What is Santa Ana's Greatest Need?

The five speakers will all be men—business men at that.

So, wouldn't it be helpful and interesting to get the point of view of women and mechanics and laborers, teachers, fruit growers—everybody?

Won't YOU write the Register at once—TONIGHT and tell us what you think is Santa Ana's greatest need? Or telephone the City Editor and just tell him in a few words. Phone Sunset 79, or Home 409.

We want responses to this to be sent in SURE before tomorrow's (Wednesday's) Register is circulated—don't want people to be confused or influenced in their opinions by reading what the speakers at the M. & M. luncheon have to say.

Everybody, now, all together, give us your opinion as to What Is Santa Ana's Greatest Need?

Such an explanation, according to Berlin dispatches received here today, was Zimmerman's answer to Socialist queries in the main committee of the Reichstag at its meeting late yesterday. The secretary laid particular stress on the fact that his instructions to Minister Eckhardt at Mexico City were based only on the United States entering the war.

L. A. WOMEN THREATEN FOOD RIOTS UNLESS MAYOR TAKES ACTION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 6.—A local woman's committee today visited Mayor Woodman at the city hall and asked action in lowering the cost of foodstuffs, threatening riots or the forcing open of warehouses. The mayor promised a council resolution urging the legislature and governor immediately to prohibit the exportation of foodstuffs until California is cared for.

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—The Federal grand jury, investigating food and coal price-fixing, today handed down three indictments, naming fifty individuals, 100 corporations and charging a combination in fixing prices in the big West Virginia coal fields.

FIRE HALL. CITY JAIL MAY BE INCLUDED IN BOND CALL

City Fathers Considering the Erection of New Building
At 215 N. Sycamore

A bond issue for the erection of a fire hall and new city jail on the site of the present city jail on Sycamore street may be included in the call for an election to vote bonds for an outfall sewer and bridges.

The city solons have the building of a fire hall and city jail in contemplation and discussion of the matter will in all probability be one of the most important items to come at the meeting of the council next Monday night.

The old city jail at 215 North Sycamore is something of an eyesore and some of the members of the council have long held the opinion that the old structure should be demolished and a smaller and more modern one erected in its place. These same councilmen hold that it will be only a matter of time when the city will be called upon to construct a fire hall on city property and that two birds could be killed with one stone by adoption of the plan now under consideration of consolidating the two city institutions in one building. It is estimated that it would cost about $10,000 to put up a building commensurate with the city and its requirements.

There is no dissatisfaction with the present fire hall. The public spirit displayed by members of the fire department in forming a co-operative building company for the erection of the present fire hall at a time when it was out of the question for the city to do so is fully appreciated by the council and will be given every consideration in discussion of plans looking to the building of a new hall.

If it is decided to include bonds for this public building in the bond election, the total amount of bonds called for will probably be $100,000.

A new outfall sewer to the ocean is imperative. The arrangement with the Holly Sugar Company for use of its line to the ocean will in all probability be abrogated at the expiration of the contract. The city is paying $200 per month, or $2400 per year, for the service rendered by the Holly Sugar Company. It is estimated that $60,000 will construct an outfall system. The interest on an issue of this size would be but little more than the cost under the present agreement—$600 more per year if the bonds draw 5 per cent, nothing if they draw only 4 per cent.

The issue for bridges across the Santiago creek on Main and Flower (Hannah) streets will be for about $25,000, and with $10,000 for fire hall and jail, the total would be $95,000. In order to provide for possible errors in estimates, the total will be made $100,000.

With enlargement of its plant, the sugar company will hereafter have difficulty in taking care of city sewage during the height of the sugar-making season and it is up to the city to construct its own line. The city will construct the main line large enough to take care of a population of 40,000.

In view of the fact that the city's agreement with the sugar company expires January 1, 1918, the election will have to be called in the immediate future in order to get through with the necessary legal proceedings in time to start the work and have it completed by the date of the expiration of the contract.

DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 6.—After clinging for five minutes to the window ledge of his room on the seventh floor of the Hotel Tuller here, E. D. Voorhees, Jr., a salesman, dropped to his death to the roof of one of the hotel dining rooms, six stories below, early today. Voorhees sought the window as his only means of escaping flames which charred his room.

While he clung to the ledge with death grip, a dozen guests and employees of the hotel leaned from windows in the court watching.

Voorhees was known as one of the highest salaried salesmen in Detroit. The fire and smoke drove some 400 of the Tuller guests from their rooms, but only nominal damage was done.

ELEPHANTS TREATED TO OUTING UP SIDE OF MOUNT RUBIDOUX

RIVERSIDE, Mar. 6.—A herd of elephants was taken on a jaunt to the summit of Mount Rubidoux. The pachyderms belong to a circus that is wintering here.

The show goes on the road this week and the keepers of the animals decided that their charges needed some exercise after being cramped up in winter quarters.

$700 DIAMOND STUD VANISHES FROM SHIRT

RIVERSIDE, Mar. 6.—Emil Schmulen came home from a dance recently, took off his shirt and threw it over the back of a chair.

In the shirt was a $700 diamond stud. Beginning to "doll up" for another party, Schmulen was startled to find that the stud had disappeared.

POMONA, Mar. 6.—Arrangements today were being made to send to Cambridge, Nev., the remains of Lynthia Amos Hardin, 92, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Julia Miller, at Narod. Mrs. Hardin was born in Vermont.

Austria In Reply To America Seeks To Avoid Breach

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Austria cannot give up her right to sink "enemy merchantmen" she declares in her reply to the American aide memoire received at the state department.

Austria does not, however, include neutral merchant ships under this right. Hence, authorities are inclined to feel that she has stretched a point in order to meet the American effort to avoid a break.

This government, upon first reading of the reply, was inclined to wait for acts by Austria. Her words, officials said, indicated a desire on Austria's part to avoid a break with the United States, even though she supports the "theory" of Germany's submarine warfare.

More significant still is the fact that Austria apparently has no submarines of her own wherewith to carry out even her threat against enemy merchantmen.

Authorities feel that in view of Austria's effort to prevent a break, it would be advisable at this time to await developments to see if she carries out submarine warfare against vessels other than enemy merchantmen.

The government is not inclined to break over endorsement of a "theory." Austria's reply is far less conclusive than her original note sent shortly after Germany's barred zone decree, and in which she upheld strongly the German intention.

The reply is the most lengthy diplomatic note received at the state department in a long time. It covers about twenty typewritten pages.

Officials who had made a brief study of it this forenoon all agreed that it tended to give concessions to the American position and all felt it would serve to avert a break.

Dual Monarchy Supports Ruthless Sea War Theory

AMSTERDAM, Mar. 6.—Austria-Hungary supports the theory of unrestricted submarine warfare. Approval of Germany's course was reiterated by the Viennese government in a note handed American Ambassador Penfield today, according to dispatches here. The note was in formal answer to America's request, through Penfield, for an explanation whether Austria-Hungary's pledges in the Ancona and Persia submarine wars still held, or whether she, like Germany, supported the unlimited use of submarines.

A summary of the note received here asserts that, while Austria supports the essential beliefs of the American government, as to protection to be afforded neutrals' lives, nevertheless, neutrals have had full and complete warning not to penetrate the Central Powers' "barred zone," and if they do so they are responsible, themselves, for any losses.

"This step was taken," the note declared, "from the conviction that it would help make the principle of the freedom of the seas victorious. The submarines cruising around England announce to the peoples who need the sea that the day is not far off when the flags of all states can freely fly over the seas."

Allies Denounced
The greater part of the note was devoted to denunciation of the Entente Powers, and particularly England for their "illegal methods of sea blockading and violation of international law."

Continuing, the note declared that America's note on the Ancona case "reserved the right later to bring up difficult international questions in connection with the submarine warfare."

Critics to Assurances
"The government," it declared, "desires to show America that it adheres strictly to the assurances given and that it will endeavor to clear up all disputed points, in order to avoid misunderstandings."

The note also expressed Austria's inability to surrender her right to attack enemy merchantmen carrying contraband to the enemy, without warning, but the note specifically holds neutral merchantmen as of another classification.

DARCY AND DILLON TO FIGHT 20 ROUNDS IN DENVER IN 60 DAYS

DENVER, March 6.—Jack Dillon, the Hoosier middleweight, and Les Darcy, Australian champion, have accepted terms for a twenty round fight for a purse of $20,000 to be fought in Denver within the next sixty days, according to information received Tuesday.

The battle will be staged in the Denver stock yards stadium by Jack Kanner, promoter of the National Athletic Club, who is to be backed by a group of business men.

HOGS SELL AT $14.55 IN CHICAGO, NEW MARK

CHICAGO, Mar. 6.—Hogs established a new high record here today, when they sold at $14.55 per hundred pounds. This is an increase of from 20 to 25 cents over yesterday's quotations.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Mar. 6.—The hog market continued its skyrocketing today and registered $14 as the top price for a new record. The whole market was up 10 to 15 cents.

ACT FOR ARMED NEUTRALITY, IS SUGGESTED IN WIRES SENT PRESIDENT

Only One Telegram Received
At White House Upholds
Filibusterers

SPECTACULAR CLOTURE FIGHT IS FORECAST

Executive Hopeful Sentiment
Of Public Will Force
Senate Into Line

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—When Senator Lodge, Republican, today introduced the armed neutrality bill in the Senate, Senator Owen held that the introduction was not in order as the foreign committee to which the bill was referred died with the last Congress. Marshall sustained Owen.

There were strong intimations that the decision of his legal advisers will give him the power of furnishing guns to ship owners.

The President is represented as waiting only for such a formal ruling on his authority to act promptly and arm the ships and thereby establish a state of "armed neutrality" for the United States.

Out of scores of telegrams received at the White House today from all parts of the country, it develops that an overwhelming majority suggest that the President go ahead with the course which a majority of Congress approves.

Out of all the telegrams received today only one attempted to uphold the hands of the "little group of wilful men" in the senate who prevented a formal vote in favor of the armed neutrality measure.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—President Wilson probably will not attempt to arm American merchant ships now, unless his legal advisers find a great big loophole in the laws, which, he says, bind his hands.

This was the official view today with the cabinet scheduled to meet, and a Senate Democratic caucus slated to start discussing a cloture move, asked by Wilson to prevent such a situation as killed his armed neutrality request.

If some reform of the ancient, hide-bound rules of the Senate can be obtained, the President will undoubtedly call an extra session and try to put over the armed neutrality measure again. There is no question as to its passage—with the rules altered to check filibustering.

But there is grave doubt that the Senate rules can be remodeled.

Fight Imminent
At any rate, the Senate cloture fight promises to be spectacular.

Senator Owen, now engineering the move, claims thirty-three senators will support a rule he plans to introduce. But some senators have said they are unservingly opposed to any change.

Such men, under the very unlimited debate rules the President seeks to amend, could check the revision plan. President Wilson, however, hopes public sentiment will force the Senate into line.

Perhaps, if a broad cloture plan cannot be wrung from the Senate, some modified cloture can be forced whereby bills touching upon a national emergency cannot be talked to death. The Democrats planned to caucus at 10 o'clock. Some of the southerners, particularly, are strong against the cloture plan, for fear a "force bill" might be used against them later—that Republicans might pass a measure providing use of Federal troops at southern balloting places. The single weapon against this measure, touching the black and white question has been, in past times, a filibuster.

BRITISH OFFICER THRILLED WHEN BALLOON GOES OVER ENEMY

How Cable Parts and Big Bag
Shoots Skyward Is Told
By War Writer

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN
THE FIELD, Feb. 3.—(By Mail.)—
Life in an observation balloon section is a great game of tag. Death is the Other Fellow. He is always hot on your trail and every now and then he gets you in a corner. Then you're it.

"Get the Major to tell you about the time he was carried over the German lines and back again all in one night," said the young lieutenant, as we tugged at the end of a tiny wire cable in the little basket under the "sausage," high in the wintry sky. But the Major was too modest. He said:

"Oh, all right. I'll tell you about it after dinner tonight." He did not like to talk about his own exploit, though he mentioned several of his men who had been the heroes of adventures in the clouds. But I did get to read the official report of the incident and this was the story:

Shortly after midnight one night the Major, after carrying out certain experiments at about a mile high, signalled that he was ready to come down. The winch on the big lorry in the road began to grind and at 12:17 a. m. the sausage was swaying just out of reach of the landing squad. Then, "by an error of judgment," as

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking An Out Through Skin
Pores

—Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

the report puts it, the winch turned a revolution too far. The metallic V, where the balloon's short cord was spliced to the wire cable, wedged in the opening leading to the revolving drum of windlass, and the cable parted like a piece of sewing thread.

With a bound that jerked the basket this way and that like a ball on the end of an electric string, the balloon went skyward.

Air Bag Mile High
At 12:21 a. m., the balloon was a mile high. The Major had not used his parachute, to which the harness about him was still attached, because the wind at a mile, and below, was away from the German lines, which ran some two miles away. Instead he pulled at the valve cord to let out the gas in the sausage.

Still "valving," to use the vernacular of the game, the officer, at 12:27 a. m., found himself at about 10,000 feet or about two miles above the earth. It was bitter cold and getting colder every instant.

At 12:40 a. m., he passed the 15,000 foot mark. Though he had been keeping the valve wide open all the time, the balloon still soared.

Now he looked downward. There were lights below, lights which flared up for a minute then went out; great, white balls of light hanging in the air and illuminating the countryside beneath them.

The Major, in his sausage, was "crossing the line." He knew in an instant what had happened. He had risen to a high cross-current of air and was being swept over the German trenches into German territory.

Too Late to Jump
It was too late to jump now. If he tried the parachute and landed safely, he would be only to be taken prisoner by the enemy.

So cold that his marrow seemed frozen, he now set about to tear up his maps, notes and everything which might help the Germans. Leaning out of the basket and peering down he could no longer see the flares sent up to light the trenches. The indicator showed that he was falling now, rather rapidly. Making sure that he had destroyed all papers, he waited.

Still falling, the Major threw out some ballast to check the rapid descent. One faint hope still was left him: He might be blown back across his own lines again by the air currents nearer the ground.

So as much as he could he husbanded his ballast and his gas, jockeying the balloon like an aeronaut in an international race, his prize for winning being his freedom. If he lost, the best he could hope for was prisoner of war for the duration of hostilities. There could be no half-way.

At a mile high, the balloon was still dropping, though slowly. No lights were visible anywhere. The sky was murky and there were no stars to serve as guides. It was to be a fight in the dark, a hit or miss without seeing what he was doing. The absence of trench flares looked bad. He must have drifted far behind the German lines.

Haystacks Loom
After a time the faint outlines of fields, houses, trees and haystacks began to loom up and presently, with a fairly hard bump, the basket struck the earth, bounding up again some 200 feet. After a few of these bounds, the officer, calculating the right moment as best he could in the dark, pulled the rip-cord to let out the gas.

The rip-cord broke at the point where it entered the balloon. Suddenly the balloon came to a halt just above the ground. There were voices beneath. There was a moment of suspense then the Major heard in good English:

"Lively there! Get onto those ropes, you blighters." A squad of British Tommies soon had the sausage anchored. It had been blown back over the lines into a wide salient occupied by the English.

The official report, of course, merely narrates the plain facts in a plain way, just as the captain of a fire company would tell how the blaze his men had put out had started. "The sausage," this came of tag with death, was all a part of the day's work. So, had to go down in the records quite as if it had been a requisition paper to the commissary department for another crate of pork-and-beans.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using
Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

ASSESSOR HERE GETS FIGURES ON FOODSTUFF IN STORAGE

Between 10,000 and 12,000
Sacks of Beans Left In the County, Says Sleeper

There are between 10,000 and 12,000 sacks of lima beans stored in Orange county by owners waiting for "the prices to go up."

There is a good deal of sugar still here, and a number of carloads of potatoes are to be counted.

County Assessor James Sleeper has received instructions from the State Board of Equalization asking for immediate information as to the amount of foodstuffs that are stored in this county. Similar information is sought from every county in the state at the instance of the State Senate, which desires the information in order to base action, if possible, for relief from the high cost of buying certain foodstuffs.

"Orange county is not loaded up with stored-away articles like some other counties," said Sleeper today. "But there is quite a lot of foodstuffs being held here. This morning one of my deputies reported that a man at Anaheim has 1100 sacks of potatoes in storage there, holding them for the price to go still higher than it is now. Another one of my deputies found a man with 400 sacks of lima beans. That man said he was holding his beans for 15 cents a pound. There is quite a lot of lima beans left in the county. I should judge that there are between 10,000 and 12,000 sacks of limas still here.

"The field deputies are out today examining warehouses. There is a considerable amount of flour stored in this county, quite a lot of grain, a lot of sugar. One firm alone in Santa Ana has two carloads of potatoes."

MOBILIZING U. S. RESOURCES FOR WAR TIME

NEW YORK, March 6.—In event of hostilities and the calling out of militia and volunteer troops, there are many cadets in the various private military institutions in the United States who could speedily be made available for second lieutenants and some higher ranks in the volunteer forces.

One of the most prominent institutions in the country from a military standpoint is Norwich university, at Norwich, Vt., which has graduated numerous men into the army as second lieutenants. The graduating class is between eighty and 120 men every year, and the institution has kept fairly good track of its available sons after they have left college.

At a conservative estimate, Norwich could furnish a thousand men, who have passed an examination required as entrance to the regular army as second lieutenant of infantry, 500 second lieutenants of cavalry and about 300 artillery second lieutenants.

Many of the men have kept well informed in military affairs, while others, of course, would need considerable brushing up in modern tactics. Norwich has maintained the same standards of study and execution of military drill that the cadets at West Point are held to, and fully a sixth of its graduating classes have followed an army career.

Available for Use
In training, the graduates are probably superior in knowledge and executive ability to two-thirds of the militia captains and some majors in the National Guard.

They have served under military officers of the highest type for a four-year course, and during that time have had to work hard and faithfully in order to graduate.

A like condition is true perhaps of twenty-five other private military schools in the United States designated by the war department as "distinguished institutions." These schools could bring to the colors about 7000 fully or partially trained lieutenants. Besides these there are some 10,000 college men who have attended training camps like Plattsburg, and who in a short time could be whipped into good enough shape to take command of volunteer infantry.

The Culver school at Culver, Ind., is perhaps a close second to Norwich university as regards cavalry material. The showing made by Culver boys while stationed on the border in the recent mobilization attracted widespread attention among army men.

The engineering corps of the regular army could be readily recruited in officers and men from the civil population engaged in similar pursuits as a daily occupation. The supremacy of concrete construction in this country would indicate that there would be no trouble in securing enough capable engineers and non-commissioned officers to erect or construct necessary gun emplacements and additional defenses.

Civilian Ability
The signal corps picked from civilians engaged in like work would soon be as good as the regular units, in fact, probably better, as the class of men in the New York militia units of that branch of the service made the regulars on the border recently sit up and eat humble pie.

There are more civilian aviators than there are regular army aviators, and from present indications the for-close out my entire stock of shoes and reduce as much as possible the Dry Goods and Notion stock. Knowing that to do this I will have to sacrifice the goods unmercifully I want the people to know that this is not an ordinary sale and I am wading through the stock, cutting and slashing the prices, leaving a flood of bargains such as will startle the most seasoned bargain hunters. I want to tell you people that the reduction in prices are well nigh unbelievable. My advice is to get down here and stock up on shoes and dry goods as this is one grand opportunity to save while elsewhere you are paying top notch prices.

YELLOW-HAMMERS NO LONGER PROTECTED; SENATOR IS HAPPY

SACRAMENTO, March 6.—Having put through his bill to remove the protection on yellow-hammers, Senator Struckenbruck, the Lodi blacksmith, is feeling very well, thank you.

The senator had something of a personal grudge to work off, several of these industrious birds having hammered a hole into a perfectly good tank house on the Struckenbruck farm. Struckenbruck cites other instances where yellow-hammers have done much damage, and, believing that the assembly will unanimously concur in the senate's action, predicts that soon after the law becomes effective the activities of the birds will be reduced to a minimum. Under the law there will be no restrictions on the shooting of yellow-hammers. Three senators—Luce of San Diego, Carr of Pasadena, and Jones of San Jose—voted against the bill.

WEST VIRGINIA FILES REPLY IN BIG SUIT

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Attorney General E. T. England of West Virginia, today filed in the supreme court the state's reply to Virginia's petition for a writ of mandamus to compel payment of $13,000,000. West Virginia's share of the Virginia state debt when the states separated.

U. S. CAN BECOME BIG BILLIGERENT

NEW YORK, March 6.—Should the United States choose to develop all her vast powers, military experts agree, she would become the strongest military nation in the world. No belligerent on either side would equal her.

Few nations or empires have larger populations; but none has so many intelligent, energetic citizens of the type from which universal experience shows, the best fighting material comes.

No other nation can approach her in natural resources.

No other nation can approach her in actual wealth.

No other nation can approach her in self-efficiency and ability to flourish without outside assistance of any sort.

more impressive. The gold stock of the central powers together is only about two-fifths of ours.

But iron, steel and copper are still more important in war than gold, and here the United States shin so brilliantly as to dim the rest of the world.

The United States produces more pig iron than all the other countries of the world combined.

In 1916 the United States produced twice as much copper as the rest of the world.

The United States has more than four times as many automobiles as all the rest of the world put together. And the rate of production is putting this country farther ahead in automobile ownership every moment, despite vast exportations.

BRAZILIAN STATE IS SOLID BED OF COAL

$175,000 ESTIMATED TACOMA BLAZE LOSS

TACOMA, Wash., Mar. 6.—Thomas Carstens of the Carstens Packing Company today estimated the loss by the fire which destroyed the killing plant, including the lard and drying rooms, late last night, at $175,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was the third which has visited the plant in two years.

Enormous firebrands, borne by a strong wind, fell in the yards of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Company nearby, causing several fires, which were quickly extinguished by the company's fire equipment.

KING ORANGE TO RULE AT HOME AND ABROAD SATURDAY

Bisby Interviews Business Men and Finds Them Alive to National Orange Day

- *****
Orange Cake
1-3 cup butter.
1 cup sugar.
2 eggs.
1/2 cup Southern California orange juice.
Grated rind one orange.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.
1 1/2 cups flour.
1/4 Teaspoon soda.
Cream butter; add sugar, gradually, and eggs, beaten until thick and lemon colored. Sift flour and soda together four times; add alternately with combined fruit juices and rind to first mixture. Put in buttered and floured cake-pan, and bake in a moderate oven 35 or 40 minutes. Cover with boiled orange frosting.

Orange Filling
2 Southern California oranges.
2 large apples.
1 cup sugar.
Grate the rind and squeeze the juice of the oranges; add apples pared and grated, and the sugar. Stir and boil 15 minutes. Cool and use between layers of pastry or cake.

BY R. L. BISBY
(Chairman Orange County Committee)
Saturday, March 10, is Orange Day. It is going to be celebrated at home. Yesterday in Washington the chief executive of the United States held his inaugural ceremonies. He was then and there empowered to control the destinies of the citizens of the United States for four years and while his power, to a certain extent, is regulated and controlled by the two legislative bodies, it is considered sufficient to enable him to govern his people wisely and well.

On Saturday, March 10, King Orange, of California, will be installed as a despotic monarch, and his powers will be curtailed only by the appetites of his people. On that day in sixty of the largest cities in the United States, by official proclamation of the heads of those cities, King Orange will be given complete control, and enjoyment unconfined will be the rule of the day.

The committee which has had this work in charge has completed its arrangements in the East as outlined, and it is hoped that as the result of its work there will be a material increase in the sale of oranges during the current week.

In now becomes the duty of the committee to wake up the local Californian to the fact that by his taking an active interest in the day and celebrating the same the enthusiasm and interest here will be transferred to brothers in the East and cause them to increase their interest in California Orange Day.

In an endeavor to find out just what would be done in Santa Ana, I, as chairman of the Orange County committee, made a canvass of a few of the representative places.

Banks, Stores to Decorate
James' Confectionery—in answer to the question: "Are you going to do anything on Orange Day?" Mr. James was right there with bells. "You bet your life, from 2 to 4:30 p. m., I will serve free orange sherbet," said James. "Last year we served 800 people during that time; this year we want to serve more." Free copies of the Orange Day song will be given away to our customers. Special orange candies and orange drinks will rule this confectionery on Orange Day. Music by an orchestra, and last but not least, a big surprise showing the Orange Day beauties.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

Look at Tongue! Move Poisons From Liver and Bowels at Once

—Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Co.—Advertisement.

—New Coats at $25.00 to $47.50, featuring the more expensive materials, the imported Buerella, Poiret, Velours, Italian Silks, exclusive in color and model.

Bank: "Sure, we are going to decorate and give away oranges," said A. F. Zaiser. "Doesn't the increased interest in oranges mean an increase in our deposits? The more oranges we have, the more money in these banks. We are not going to tell you what we are going to do with them, but it will be in accordance with the Orange Day spirit, and oranges will be given away."

Matere's Drug Store: "Decorate? Why not? We always do. Special dishes at the fountain," said Matere. Many other attractive little features will prevail at this store on Orange Day.

Orange County Trust and Savings Bank—Ed Farnsworth: "We haven't got our scheme of decorating worked out yet, but you bet there will be oranges here. Why, Orange county is the home of the Valencia orange. The orange that brings the highest market price in the East. Will we boost Orange Day? Well, I guess yes."

California National Bank: "Well, Bisby, what do you want us to do?" said Harvey. "Come over here and I will introduce you to Brother Vincent and have him see that this bank is properly decorated and oranges given away on Saturday, Orange Day."

"This bank is here for the purpose of being identified with the interests of this community and as we get about one-ninth of the income of this county from the orange, let us boost Orange Day," said Mr. Vincent.

Baker's Bakery: That sounds a little euphonious does it not? and what Baker said about Orange Day was just as pleasant. "Special cakes, special pies, and a lot of new features we are working on, and we want the people to come and see what we are going to do on that day."

Fuller Will Dress Up
Dragon Confectionery: I struck Davis—the other end of the live wire of the combination of Fuller and Davis. "What are we going to do for Orange Day? Why, say, Bisby, you don't know what Orange Day means to this house. We are not satisfied with one day; we are going to have special features for three days in the week. Special menus with each luncheon, special candies, special cakes. I have arranged to have my partner, Mr. Fuller, wear an orange-colored suit on these three days, and I want everyone to come in and see him in this suit—it is a beauty."

Gilbert and Company: "Orange Day windows? Why, yes. What are we going to do? We are going to keep that for a little surprise for the ladies." The writer would like to offer this as a suggestion—that all ladies watch Gilbert's windows for Orange Day suggestions.

White Cross Drug Store: "What are we going to do on Orange Day?" said genial Manager Madden, while he scratched the place where the hair restorer failed to work. "You just tell the ladies for me that we will have one big surprise for them. Tell them to just watch our ad in the papers. We have a real present for them and in addition to that we will give away oranges. We will run special menus at our lunch counter; have special drinks at our fountain." Watch the papers.

Smart Shop: "We will do something for Orange Day. Surest thing, you know. We will show the ladies some of the fanciest costumes possible, and special orange decorations will be used in our windows." See the Smart Shop windows for the latest in milady's Orange Day apparel.

First National Bank: Just the same as usual in that good, steady, reliable old way. Oranges will be given away and the customers of the bank made happy by the genial smile of the management and employees. They are going to call it the "Orange Smile" that day.

J. E. Tillotson: "We have ordered a special lot of orange ties for Orange Day and we want to see our people pick and span on that day." Joe says: "The orange ties are beauties."

Rowley Drug Store: Kelley, the only fat man in the drug business, says: "Free oranges, free orange punch, special menu at the counter, special menus for luncheon and special orange dishes at the fountain, and last but not least, real orange pie, made like mother used to try to make it." Kelley is always up in the front.

L. A. FIRMS CLOSE UP SHOP TO LET WORKERS OBSERVE HARBOR DAY

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—In order that all citizens may have an opportunity to visit the harbor and familiarize themselves with the work that has been accomplished, Mayor Woodman has set aside today as "Harbor Day" and many firms have closed their establishments to allow their employees the liberty of attending the ceremonies. In the proclamation issued recently, Mayor Woodman urged that the holiday be observed as far as practical by everyone.

ON STOPPING LEAKS

The women of Riverside are going to take a hand in the campaign to stop the $100,000 leak in Riverside by having the vegetables for which that town now sends $100,000 away, never to return, grown in Riverside county. Zona Gale, the well known and popular author, is lending important aid to this movement. The Press is for it strong and says:

"In this connection the Press ventures the suggestion that the people of Riverside wake up to the importance of not only stopping this leak but others like it. It is well said that 'the way to get new industries is to patronize those you have;' and Riverside people are not doing that to the extent they ought to.

"If we can produce $50,000 or $100,000 worth of foodstuffs right here at home that we now send money away for, that means more people employed in farming and gardening, more land improved, and more money put in circulation in Riverside. That would be fine and there is no reason why it can not be done.

"Let us go a little further in the same direction. If Riverside people who now spend money in Los Angeles would trade at home, a good many times $100,000 in a year would be paid out to clerks and mechanics employed here. Rouse and Reynolds and other dry goods stores would have to add several more clerks. The hardware men would need a larger force; the builders and painters and mill men would need more hands. The Press would have to add some more hands in the bindery and job office; and other industries would respond to the beneficial results of more business. It is an easy matter to figure out where from fifty to one hundred more people could be employed in Riverside, if the business which now goes out of town were kept at home. That means at least forty or fifty more families than we now have.

"If we were to land a new industry that gave employment to such a number of employees that fifty new families were brought to Riverside, the papers would play up the fact in headlines as big as those used to announce the German plot yesterday; and we should just hug ourselves with delight at the achievement. It is no easy matter to secure a new industry that will bring in ten or twenty new families. The Chamber of Commerce directors and committees that have been working on the problem for the last six months realize that pretty keenly. By a proper display of loyalty to home merchants and home industries, it is possible, however, to provide employment for several score more people right here at home. And yet we see some public officials obsessed with the idea that they are justified in curtailing, crippling, and even putting out of business concerns in Riverside county in order to make a little saving by buying county supplies in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

"Is that good public policy? How can we reconcile any movement to send business away from the county as consistent with the slogan, 'Do it for Riverside?'

PRODUCER AND PUBLIC

On the face of it, a man has a right to sell his product for any old price that he can get. But there are limitations in reason and justice. If a traveler came to an inn-keeper's door weary and exhausted on a cold winter night, the landlord might say that he had a right to charge him any price he wanted. He might say that the man could better afford to pay $50 for his lodging than risk his life and health in the storm.

But any inn-keeper who took advantage of human suffering to charge exorbitantly would be called rapacious. Lawyers would probably say that he could be compelled, as the keeper of a public house, to take the man in and give him accommodation at a decent price.

The position of the food producer in this time of food shortage is the same, morally, if not legally. The people are suffering for lack of certain food products. Those who have these products are enriching themselves. Can any limit be placed on this grasping spirit?

Ways are always found in which to end great abuses. Food speculations is a new evil with which our people have to contend, and they will not be tolerant in doing it. In their anger they may go to the other extreme, and hit a blow at business interests that may do lasting hurt. Food speculators should have a care how they provoke the consuming public into a state of

KEEP THYSELF PURE

Youth's Greatest Commandment

ORISON SWETT MARDEN IN PICTORIAL REVIEW

Purity is the very essence of being. It is sex virility, the very source of mental forcefulness, of masterfulness. Purity is that which gives spontaneity, buoyancy, and joy to the life.

Purity means wholeness—physical and moral health and integrity. No one can live a life which is sapping his vitality or running counter to the highest thing in him and still express his maximum of possible power. A person cannot respect himself, thoroughly believe in himself, cannot be masterful when he is conscious that he is vile in any part of his being, that he is marring the divine image in him.

We are built on a moral plan, built for cleanliness, for purity, for righteousness. Doing right creates moral health. Doing wrong starts disease vibrations in our nature. There is a very intimate relation between healthy morals and a healthy body.

The happiness, the efficiency, the destiny of the individual seems to hang so completely upon the principle of purity, of cleanliness of mind and body that whatever impairs or perverts this principle tends to undermine, to deteriorate the whole nature.

To be our best we must be in harmony with the best, the highest thing in us. In some subtle, mysterious way impurity, like a poison, blights and takes the promise out of life because it strikes at the very heart of self-respect. Impurity vulgarizes the ideals, undermines the ambition and lowers the whole standards of life. He who violates his sex instinct feels that he has committed an unpardonable sin against his own nature, that glorious future which in boyhood he had looked forward to with such hope and expectation.

Purity is that subtle force which, conserved in all its integrity and transmuted into intellectual energy, is man's greatest glory, his grandest power. "Keep thyself pure," is youth's grandest commandment.

"Harmless" Ills Deadly

The surprisingly high death rate from measles and the equally surprisingly low death rate from scarlet fever recorded during 1916 in Chicago are worth more attention than that due to coincidence.

The fact that the toll of "harmless" measles and of much feared scarlet fever was practically the same affords food for thought and the inspiration for action. The health department announces that the high death rate from measles was due to the general belief that the disease is not serious. Too many parents took no pains to protect their children from this so-called simple ailment.

On the other hand, scarlet fever is always regarded with dread. No rational person would wittingly expose another to its danger. Usually the best care available under the circumstances is given to the scarlet fever patient. The child suffering from measles in contrast is often neglected. "Everybody has the measles, why worry?" sums up a state of mind which is dangerously prevalent.

The moral is too clear possibly to be stressed. The notion that all the minor communicable diseases be avoided is, however, too urgent to be forgotten merely because of its obvious wisdom.

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE

By Henry James

Darkness
A clergyman blames the members of his profession for keeping the people in darkness.

Happily he may either overestimate the prowess of the profession, or misconstrue its intent. There does not seem clear any method by which one class of society could be able to dim the light of knowledge that beams from all.

There are so many open avenues along which the enquiring soul may pass in the direction of wisdom that there is no way to place obstacles in the path.

Time was when the minister had almost a monopoly of learning. He was the community oracle. Holding such a high place, he does not in modern days so tower intellectually in comparison with the rest of humanity.

Keeping men in the darkness would be an impossible feat. They might choose darkness, but men have acquired the habit of thinking. They do not accept thought as handed out in packages.

A Way Out
To avoid the payment of damages for injuries inflicted by an automobile, a Pasadena girl went into bankruptcy. Of course, creditors got the machine.

Reckoned by Inches
A representative of the shoe manufacturers says that his branch of trade loses $10,000,000 a year for every inch taken from the feminine skirt. Figure it out yourself. Looks to me to be the first good reason given for letting skirts come down to the old level.

Real Justice
Justice Cox of Santa Ana doesn't theorize about the ways and means to stop speeding.

Weaklings
It is estimated that only fifty per cent of the boys of this country will reach military age yearly are fit to bear arms.

Something is the matter. Overstudy or cigarette?

Spoiling Food
When New York eastsiders got hungry they sallied forth and soaked with wrath, leading to hasty and perhaps injudicious action.

A dealer may have the legal right to ask an unreasonable price. If so, it seems inevitable that laws should be changed. If they want to avoid the vexatious interference of government, which business interests all dread, let the food speculator beware how like the inn-keeper he turns the public away in time of exigency. People who want to keep friends and remain in business at the old stand would better protect their customers and the public.

LITTLE GIRL HAD CROUP
Every mother knows and fears croup. Mrs. M. M. Raney, R. F. D. 2, Stanford, Ky., writes: "My little girl had been having croup every few nights. I began to give her a few drops of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound every two or three hours, and that night she slept well, never coughed any, and the next day her cold was gone. To all my friends I am saying, 'Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar for the gripper, coughs, colds and croup. A genuine cure.'" Rowley Drug Co.

TO HOLD HEARING ON NORMAL SCHOOL LAW

SACRAMENTO, March 6—A public hearing before the joint legislative committee on San Francisco normal school legislation will be held today. This legislation is predicted to bring on one of the biggest fights of the legislative session.

kerosene a lot of food exposed for sale. They should have saved their kerosene money and bought something to eat.

Meeting the Foe
San Francisco women hissed at the proposition to introduce military training in the schools.

Were an invading host to approach the women might organize into regiments and meet the foe at the landing with a set of hearty hisses.

Vindication
Investigators of the "leak" decided that nobody has been guilty of anything reprehensible.

Tom Lawson is not included in the vindication, the verdict merely implying that whether the man lies or not is a matter of no consequence.

Youth's Glad Rags
Suits for young men are now on display in the backs of magazines. The very aspect of the garments is an implied compliment to the young men, for to wear the things must require nerve.

Optimism
A banker touring the Pacific coast reports himself as full of optimism, even as his bank is full of money.

Perhaps if the bread rioters had a bank apiece, they would be cheerful, too.

Hard Lines
Consumers of cocktails have been informed that the pickled onion is to be absent from their favorite tipple.

Thus under the pressure of high prices the rich and the poor each have a share of woe.

Personal Estimates
One pitcher in a big league announced that he would get a salary of $15,000 or that he wouldn't play. As he is going to play, doubtless he got something near the figure mentioned.

A pitcher is not different from other persons, and he is worth as he thinks he is worth—if he can force anybody to pay it.

Merely Incidental
One result of the war may be that women will wear trousers.

It would be well for the students of history to understand, however, that this does not represent the real purpose of the war.

L. A. MAN IN JAIL AS SLAYER OF BRIDE OF 5 MONTHS AND BABY

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 6.—William Bricker, 23, an automobile mechanic, is in the city jail today, charged with murder.

Bricker's victims are his bride of five months and her three-year-old baby.

Mrs. Bricker was shot to death by her husband as she lay on a couch in her home.

Bricker then grasped the child, leveled the gun at it and fired.

The murderer then tried to kill himself but inflicted only a flesh wound. A few minutes later Bricker was arrested.

Domestic troubles are blamed for the murders.

FOG BELLS TO WARN COLORADO MOUNTAIN TOURISTS, NEW PLAN

DENVER, Mar. 5.—Fog bells—another touch of the atmosphere of the Swiss Alps—are to be placed in the Rocky Mountain National Park to guide the traveler during the times when mountain top and clouds meet and there comes a mist that hides the traveler and is liable to befog his sense of direction. The bells will be placed at what are considered the most dangerous points of the party territory.

FRENCH SOLDIERS
WED ALSACE GIRLS

BY HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES, THANN, Alsace, Feb. 2 (by mail)—Just about the happiest girls in the world today are the girls of Alsace, who, years ago, following their first communion secretly hid away their white communion veils to be worn again in welcoming the French troops back to Alsace—should that happy event ever come.

Today, these girls in that portion of Alsace which has been reoccupied by the French, are supremely happy, because they are girls whose dreams have come true.

Some of the younger ones had only a few years in which to dream and wait, but amongst the long lines of white-robed and white-veiled girls and women, who welcomed the French troops on their arrival at Thann in August, 1914, there were some who had cherished their communion veils for over forty years.

And now that this happy dream has come true, the white communion veils are again being laid away for another happy dream that promises not to be so long in coming. This is the marriage between Alsatian girls and the French soldiers who have redeemed their province for France, and already in the town of Thann alone four of these marriages have taken place, when white veils, worn at the first communion, then to welcome the French soldiers back to Alsace, were finally worn for the third and last time at the marriage ceremony which symbolized anew the union of France and Alsace.

The brides in these happy events had the additional pleasure of having the civil marriage ceremony performed by a gallant French Captain, who having lost his right arm in the fighting to redeem Thann, now serves as the French military mayor, whilst the religious ceremony was performed by French priests who came in the wake of the French army.

8 SEATTLE SLAYING TRIAL JURORS PASSED

SEATTLE, March 6.—Eight jurors had been passed for cause today, the second day of the murder trial of Thomas Tracy, the first of the seventy-four 1. W. W.'s to face prosecution in connection with the Everett fight of November 5. Nineteen talesmen were examined.

Superior Judge Ronald insisted on a night session last night, asserting he wanted to complete the panel with a view to cutting down expenses for the state. Examination of talesmen continued at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Little wrangling between opposing lawyers marked the selection of the jurors during the first day. It is believed a jury will be completed within two days.

HARRISBURG RAILWAY OPPOSES JITNEY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 5.—The Harrisburg Railway company has a complaint filed today with the public service commission against a dozen jitney operators in this city, alleging that the company is furnishing adequate service and that the jitneys are unlicensed. The jitneys are being operated under a city ordinance, passed by the council and voted on authority by the city voters at the last election, following a strike of the street car employees.

PEDDLER ROUTED AS PARROT BEGINS TALK

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 5.—A vendor of patent medicines entered an apartment house on West Fifteenth street and rang a bell.

"Come in," came from the inside, in a high, feminine falsetto.

The peddler entered. Nobody was inside, as far as he could see, but, having been invited in, he began his stereotyped speech.

"I have here some homeopathic remedies—"

"Tell it to papa," came the same voice.

"Send him here, please, won't you?" petitioned the peddler.

"Polly want a cracker! Gra-a-a-wk, coo-coo-doodle-doo, gra-a-a-wk! 'Pretty Polly!' and then a series of shrill whistles.

Having no parrot remedies, the peddler "ducked."

ABOLITION OF HUMAN MISERY TO BE OBJECT OF PITTSBURG MEET

CHICAGO, March 6.—The abolition of human misery will be the keynote of the annual national Conference of Charities and Correction at Pittsburgh June 5 to 13, General Secretary W. T. Cross announced here today.

Unfair food prices, neglected children, slum districts, criminal classes, insane, mental defectives and immoral conditions in out of the way rural districts will be dealt with and plans outlined for the elimination of them from national life.

President Frederick Almy of Buffalo will talk about the Abolition of Poverty. Other speakers will be Thomas Mott Osborne, Wilfred S. Reynolds of Chicago, Robert A. Woods of Boston, Edward T. Divine and Morris Hillquit of New York, who will speak of social insurance; Dr. Owen Copp of Philadelphia.

Thirty-five hundred social workers are expected to attend the conference from all parts of the United States.

CLEAR YOUR SKIN IN SPRING

Spring house cleaning means cleaning inside and outside. Dull, pimply skin is an aftermath of winter inactivity. Try Dr. King's New Life Pills tonight and throw off the sluggish winter shell. At druggists', 25c.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE BY FEDERAL BANK

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—The federal reserve bank of San Francisco may shortly put into practice a new system of handling foreign exchange whereby a fund of gold will be set aside to be used as a clearing house through which debts owed to foreign countries may be adjusted. The plan would contemplate the participation of many national banks in the fund.

In the natural course of business Americans often owe persons in foreign countries sums of money. The normal method in adjusting these debts is to ship gold to the country to which money is owed. Owing to war conditions it is difficult and dangerous to ship gold overseas so the plan has been suggested of merely segregating amounts of gold owed to foreigners and safeguarding them from confusion with other gold. Although the physical gold does not go to the creditor country, the title passes and it may be drawn against. In working out this plan the federal reserve banks will act as trustees for other banks.

$880 PAID FOR MAP OF BRADDOCK'S ROUTE

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—Sale was begun in the Anderson Galleries of original manuscripts and drawings from the effects of the late Benson J. Lossing, the historian.

George D. Smith paid $880 for a map of the route of Braddock's march to Fort Duquesne, which was prepared by Christopher Gist, who accompanied the expedition. It measures 13½ by 11 inches and is marked with compass points, scale of miles, a list of camping points, camps being indicated by a cross, and rivers, creeks and mountains along the route by a red dotted line.

J. F. Drake paid $280 for a copy of John Cotton's abstract of the laws of New England, printed in 1641, the first American law book.

"How came you to shoot my cow?" "She went moo." "Well?" "So I thought she was a mouse."

line. Gist was employed by the Ohio company, and the only other map by him, showing the country between the Alleghenies and Lake Erie, is in the British museum.

Mr. Smith paid $55 for Lossing's manuscript of Vol. 1 of his "History of the Civil War in America," and $80 for 165 pencil drawings by Lossing, illustrating his "Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution."

ORANGE DAY LUNCH

Travel Section No. Two Entertained At Delightful Affair At James'

A delightful luncheon was given the Second Travel Section at James' gold room on Monday afternoon by Mrs. M. S. Emerson.

A veritable Orange Day decoration and menu were featured at this delightful affair.

The table was decorated with the golden California poppies and the orange was noted either in color or in the composition of the four courses; and in handpainted place cards, golden nut baskets and iced beverages.

At the close of the luncheon, the regular program of the Travel Section began with roll call, each member responding with a favorite quotation.

Mrs. J. E. Paul made interesting the study of Lower California and Mrs. W. D. Baker read an article from the Geographical magazine, touching upon the subject under discussion.

Mrs. F. W. Sabagha sang very beautifully "At Dawning" by Charles W. Cadman, and gave a second selection "Such a Little Fellow." Nevin.

Mrs. John Clarkson graciously gave several readings, first selections serious and humorous from James Whitcomb Riley, followed by Kipling's "When Earth's Last Picture is Painted," and "Mrs. Loft and I."

Mrs. Getchell, a guest from Orange, spoke a few words and reminded the ladies of the approaching flower show in Orange, inviting all to attend.

Mrs. P. L. Topic also greeted the section, of which she was formerly a member. Other guests were Misses Neatley, Flint and Evans.

Members present were Misses Balderston, Anderson, Baker, Bartholomew, Blee, C. W. Burns, Crose, Clark, S. M. Dearing, A. L. Dearing, Emerson, French, Gowen, Lamme, Liebig, Moulton, Paul, Slabaugh, Thompson, and Miss Taylor.

HOST TO COMMITTEE

Architect Eley Entertains Elks Workers and Ladies At Dinner

Architect F. H. Eley entertained the building committee of the Elks' lodge, at a 6 o'clock turkey dinner yesterday in the Elks' new banquet room. The sumptuous menu was served by Clyde Ailing of the Cherry Blossom.

The invited guests were the building committee, consisting of Dr. M. A. Patton, H. A. Gardner, W. C. Jerome, W. F. Diers, W. F. Menton, F. A. Ross, W. W. Wassner, C. T. Johnson, and their ladies; also Contractor J. S. Fluor and wife, besides the host, F. H. Eley and his wife.

A box social will be held in the new banquet room of the clubhouse on the 15th of March, to help defray the expense of new furniture and draperies for the club rooms.

The alterations to the clubhouse are practically completed, with the exception of installing the new furniture and draperies.

The entertainment committee is now busy on plans for a big "house warming" in the nature of ladies' night, to be given in the near future for the entertainment of the Elks and their lady friends, wives and sweethearts.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Orange Day Appointments Prevail For Anniversary of Mrs. H. S. Gordon

Carrying out a golden scheme in honor of Orange Day, Mrs. E. H. Darling and Mrs. Howard Gordon were hostesses last evening at a six o'clock family dinner, in compliment to Mrs. H. S. Gordon, mother of Mr. Darling and Mr. Gordon. The pleasant event took place at the Darling home.

Beautiful African daisies in brass bowls formed the dining room decorations and were used for the centerpiece on the prettily appointed table, the place cards carrying out the motif. The lovely birthday cake was iced in yellow with the date etched in the same color and the salad was served in orange cups.

Covers were laid for Dr. and Mrs. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon and baby Howard and M. O. Hawk.

Day at the Beach

Yesterday was visitors' day at the Intermediate school and the girls of the A-7th grade, section 11, took advantage of it to have a rousing good time, and chaperoned by Mrs. Lee Buck and little Aline they motored to Huntington Beach with baskets well filled with all good things that make a picnic worth while, and spent the day playing in the sand and wading. In the evening they had a weenie bake. Those taking part were Melvina Frye, Naomi Lucas, Thelma Gerard, Inez Pierce, Anna Snodgrass, Marion McDonald, Kathryn Buxton, Jennie Nelson, Marjorie Kettle, Caroline Dunaman, Violet Moreton.

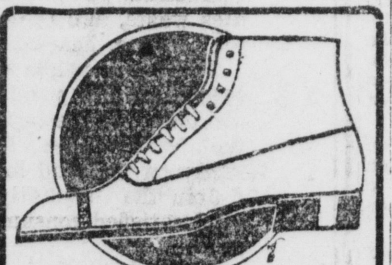

Late in the afternoon they motored home, voting it the very best time ever.

MERRY OUTDOOR PARTY

Master Franklin McClain Celebrates Seventh Birthday Yesterday Afternoon

A merry group of children of all sizes, friends of Master Franklin McClain, whose birthday parties are always thoroughly enjoyed, gathered yesterday at his home on Bush street for the seventh annual anniversary of this popular little man. The guests went provided with appreciated gifts, which made a pleasant feature.

The day being a delightful one, the young folks passed the time out of doors, amusing themselves with all sorts of pastimes from baseball to looking at pictures and playing with their doll babies.

Mrs. McClain, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Matthews, served ice cream cones, pink candies and the birthday cake, done in pink and lighted with pink and green candles, which were extinguished before the cake was cut.

The favors were green snappers, containing gay caps and bird whistles. The children present were Olive and Bobbie Lippitt, Eleanor and Elizabeth Harrington, Mabel Robertson, Helen Bowers, Eugenia Gilbert, Donald Stafford, Sherrill Spurgeon, Emmeline Remington, Edna Kitterman, Carl and Edwin Gerhardt, Russell Matthews, Ralph Watson, Harold Jordan, Herbert Hill, Frederick Schrock, Newell Vandermast, Kenneth Prince, Evelyn Brannon.

Weds Daughter Fullerton Mayor

Surprising their many friends, Miss Louise Carhart, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. J. R. Carhart of Fullerton, and Stewart Miller of La Mirada, were quietly married Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the Anaheim Episcopal church by Rev. Messias. The only witnesses were Mayor Carhart and Mrs. Messias.

The bride has been active in church and social circles and has a host of friends in Fullerton. Mr. Miller, who is employed by the Southern California Gas Company at Santa Ana, is also well known in Fullerton. Mrs. Miller left on a honeymoon trip to one of the beach resorts.

First Travelers Enjoy Meeting

Fifteen members of Travel section No. One of the Elks gathered yesterday at the pleasant home of Mrs. L. L. Shaw on West Fifth street and upon their arrival were greeted with a glory of beautiful orange colored poppies brought from the San Fernando ranch of Mrs. H. R. Bristol, sister of the hostess, who although no longer a resident of this city, is still a faithful member.

Every nook and cranny in the home glowed with the state flower in a deep orange hue, the wild blooms flowering in Mrs. Bristol's dooryard.

After roll call, an interesting article entitled "Into the Old Dominion," written by Julian Sweet in Colliers, was read and thoroughly enjoyed.

During a social period, Mrs. Shaw served the members with delectable lap refreshments.

Present were Misses A. W. Ames, J. P. Baumgartner, H. R. Bristol, L. J. Carden, H. C. Dawes, M. F. Heathman, J. J. Roper, S. Ross, W. M. Smart, E. B. Smith, T. E. Stephenson, I. W. Van Cleave, W. L. Tubbs, L. M. Sproull and W. E. Otis.

Missionary Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church South, will be held at the church parlors Wednesday, March 7, at 2:30 p. m.

All-Day Meeting

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will hold an all-day meeting tomorrow and dinner will be served at noon.

Annual Meeting

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday, March 7, at 2:30 at the church. This being the annual meeting, there will be election of officers and reports of the different departments will be given. A good attendance is urged that all may learn of the work that has been done the past year. Mrs. Herbert Rankin will lead the devotional service.

Day Nursery Teas

The teas planned for the benefit of the Day Nursery are proving delightful successes, two being held yesterday. Mrs. J. Dick Wilson of South Birch street was hostess at an informal Kensington, afterwards pouring delicious tea for her guests.

Sewing was also enjoyed at the home of Mrs. A. B. Spear on South Ross street, refreshing tea also being the beverage offered by the hostess. Mrs. Ray Steadman was another charming hostess.

Today Mrs. R. C. Peterson is hostess.

NEW ORANGE SCHEDULE ON P. E. IS ANNOUNCED

E. T. Batley, local agent for the Pacific Electric, today stated that when the P. E. inaugurates its new through service from Orange to Los Angeles, via Santa Ana, tomorrow, there will be several limited trains. The latter probably will make no stops beyond Artesia. The first limited each day will leave the Southern Pacific depot, Santa Ana, at 6:25 a. m., and the second at 8:25 a. m. Only one limited will leave Orange each day, at 7:15 a. m. The latter train will leave Fourth and Main streets, Santa Ana, at 7:29 a. m. There are practically no changes in the schedule as now in use between Santa Ana and Los Angeles. Cars will leave Orange each day as follows: 5:11 a. m., 7:15 a. m. (limited), 9:15 a. m., 1:15 p. m., 1:15 p. m., 3:15 p. m. and 5:35 p. m.

WOMEN WHO FADE EARLY

How often we hear the expression, "How she has faded!" or "Hasn't she grown old!" Her friends see it. Her husband sees it. She realizes it herself with a pang. Often she knows the reason, some female derangement has fastened itself upon her and makes it almost impossible for her to drag around from day to day. Such women should remember there is one tried and true remedy for their condition, and that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for more than forty years has been restoring women to health and happiness. Try it.

AMUSEMENTS

The West End
Anita Stewart, appearing in Robert W. Chambers' story "The Girl Philippa," which comes to the West End Theater on March 26, 27 and 28, is said to be the greatest vehicle this celebrated actress has ever appeared in.

The production is in nine reels, and follows the book in every detail.

A splendid program is being offered tonight and tomorrow at the West End, featuring Owen Moore and Irene Fenwick in "A Girl Like That." Other attractions on the same bill are two beautiful Burton Holmes travelogues and the Hearst-Pathe News pictures.

The Princess
"Dust" (American—De Luxe) a five-reel sociological study, featuring Franklyn Ritchie, Winifred Greenwood, Nell Franzen and Harry von Mater, is at the Princess today only. This is a powerful satire on the class society workers who give entertainments and spend vast sums on foreign charities, while subsisting at home on the earnings of underpaid factory workers. The factory scenes, the war-relief entertainment, the legislative session and the fire are all well presented.

DEATHS

ROBINSON—In Palmer, Neb., March 4, 1917, Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, formerly Elsie Kinslow, daughter of Albert Hacklander of East Third street.

ANSELMINO—In Santa Ana, Cal., March 6, 1917, Mrs. Pauline Anselmino, aged 32 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Anselmino of 1002 Riverine avenue.

The funeral will take place Thursday at 9 a. m., from St. Joseph's Catholic church, Rev. Fr. H. Hammett officiating. The remains are at Smith & Tutthill's chapel.

PAYS $1200 AN ACRE FOR TEN ACRES, WILL SET IT TO VALENCIAS

A. J. Lasby of Seventeenth street has bought the ten-acre walnut orchard on East Santa Clara known as the Dearing place. The ranch was owned by a New York man. Lasby paid $1200 an acre for the property. He will cut out the walnut trees and plant the place to Valencia. The sale was made through Carden & Liebig's agency.

Recently Lasby sold five acres on Santiago street to Mr. Freeman for $2000 an acre. The place is set to walnuts and oranges, and has buildings upon it.

POLY GARDENER HAS DOZEN VARIETIES OF DAFFODILS IN BLOOM

The finest collection of daffodils ever grown in Santa Ana is that at the Polytechnic High School, grown by Marshall Northcross, who has charge of the poly grounds. Northcross had the bulbs sent to him from Holland. At the present time he has a dozen beautiful varieties in bloom.

NOT JUSTICE COX WHO LET JUDGE GO UNFINED

This morning's Los Angeles Times has an item to the effect that Justice Cox had a soft place in his heart for the jurist. The article said that Superior Judge Shortall of San Francisco was arrested for cutting a corner in Santa Ana, and Justice Cox let him go without a fine.

"I'll have to sue the Times for libel," declared Cox, laughing, "for I am not guilty. Judge Shortall was not brought into my court at all, and I did not fine him nor let him go without a fine. I never saw him. He must have been in City Recorder Heathman's court."

HOUSE CATCHES AFIRE FROM DEFECTIVE FLUE

Last evening a defective flue caused a fire at the home of J. W. McLellan, 1501 Durant street. The firemen arrived promptly on call, and put the fire out with a stream from a garden hose. The damage done to the roof was slight.

TROUBLE WITH AGENTS

FOR PHYSICAL TRAINING, NOT FOR MILITARY

High School P. T. A. Against Bill Making Soldierly Compulsory Not Approved

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Santa Ana High School last night went on record as against the bill proposing compulsory military training in the high schools of California. It went on record as favoring compulsory physical training.

The motions were passed after a discussion that was brought up through the remarks of Mark Keppel, Los Angeles county school superintendent.

The meeting of the H. S. P. T. A. was held in the music room of the high school last night at 7:30.

It was opened with a piano solo by Elizabeth Parson, followed by a prayer by Rev. Greer of the Reformed Presbyterian church. After a brief business meeting, the president, Mrs. Baker, introduced the speaker of the evening, Mark Keppel, who spoke up on some of the proposed school legislation which is now being considered by the state legislature.

There has been an effort to reduce the number of bills pertaining to school matters and to improve the quality, although there are now about 175 school bills, of more or less importance up for consideration.

The first bill upon which Mr. Keppel spoke at any length was that providing for compulsory military training in high schools or schools of high school rank throughout the state.

On the whole, the speaker was not in favor of this bill. He spoke of Germany, the greatest military nation in the world, having no compulsory military training in her schools. As only about seven per cent of the boys and girls in the United States are in high school, the burden of training would not be equally borne. Then there is the danger of engendering a military spirit.

The second bill discussed was a bill which had been introduced with the purpose of defeating the bill for military training—a bill requiring compulsory physical training in our schools. This bill was considered more favorably, although there was some doubt as to the advisability of compulsory training.

Another bill provided for more funds for the elementary schools. The decrease in the school funds due to the less of the poll tax has not been made up entirely. Although the cost of maintaining schools has increased forty per cent in ten years, the increase in school money has not kept pace in the same rate.

The outlook is not for a decrease in the number of subjects to be taught but for more work that the schools must do. A great part of this burden must be borne by the elementary schools which have in many cases an inadequate sum to carry on the work. The desire on the part of those promoting this bill is to equalize the money available so that the schools may have according to their needs rather than according to the wealth of the district.

The last bill considered provided for a building tax to do away with the voting of bonds for buildings.

A general discussion followed in which the two bills first mentioned were chiefly considered.

L. A. Sweet declared that he was opposed to military training, and he preferred taking his boy out of school to having him undergo the training. He said he thought militarism teaches hate and gives a desire to kill. He preferred having his son taught the causes of war than how to war. Military training had about it the psychological suggestion of war, said he.

D. G. Cole did not see the matter the same way Sweet saw it. Cole said he believed boys ought to be raised to be in a position to defend their country and themselves. Mrs. Wicks took part in the discussion.

DISTRICTS ARE ORGANIZED FOR ENSUING YEAR

Newport Drainage Canal Will Be Completed to Bay Soon

Directors of all the drainage districts in the county met at their respective headquarters today and organized for the ensuing year. In some of the districts one or more new members were elected at the recent elections while in others there was no change. The Newport Protection District also organized today.

Each of the districts has made considerable progress during the year, and perhaps one of the most important news features in connection with the operations of the organizations which have effected great changes in land conditions in the south and west sections of the county is the announcement that the Newport district will in about three weeks complete its main canal to Newport bay.

The members of the boards and officers are as follows:

Newport Drainage District—R. L. Tedford, president; Mac O. Robbins, secretary; Williams & Rutan, attorneys; J. L. McBride, engineer; directors, R. L. Tedford, D. W. Ellis, A. E. Selvidge. Tedford is a new man on the board, having succeeded J. D. Hutton, who has removed from the district.

BEANS LOOKED EASY TO TAKE

Silvestre Sandoval Pleads Guilty and Gets Five Years In Folsom

This morning Silvestre Sandoval pleaded guilty to stealing several sacks of lima beans from the Golden West Company at Wintersburg. At first Sandoval denied having stolen the beans from the warehouse. He said he saw the beans stacked under a beet dump, and they looked so easy to take that he couldn't help thinking about it. He passed by the beans a second time, and at that time temptation got him. He took them home, put them in other sacks and burned the sacks they were in.

Judge West sentenced him to five years in Folsom.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

GARROWAY PLEADS NOT GUILTY AND CALLS FOR A JURY

Other Side of Road Rule Controversy to Be Told In Justice's Court

A. J. Garroway, who was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace of City Motorcycle Officer H. R. Cook, today pleaded not guilty to the charge, and he demanded a jury trial. He was in court with his attorney, Elmer Worthy, this morning, and at that time arrangements were made for holding the trial on March 21.

The version of his controversy with the motorcycle officer is quite a different story from that presented by Officer Cook. Cook said that when he came up behind Garroway, Garroway failed to swerve to the right so that Cook could pass him without getting over on the left side of the street. When Cook undertook to admonish Garroway, Cook says Garroway replied in language that Cook says constituted a disturbance of the peace.

That he used strong language is denied by Garroway. Garroway says that his machine was straddling the right outside rail of the Main street car tracks when Cook came up behind him, and honked his horn. Garroway thought Cook was merely giving a signal that he was going to pass, for Cook had fully five feet between Garroway's machine and the center of the street. Garroway heard the motorcycle call to him, and at first thought it was a friend kidding him. Then Cook stopped him, and demanded his name. Garroway wanted to know what it was to him. Cook did not reply until then that he was an officer. Garroway says he used no stronger language than the use of a word that is spelled with four letters and begins with an h and ends with an l.

Garroway says that Cook accused him of disturbing the peace, took him to jail, and caused him to be searched. Justice Cox admitted him to bail.

This morning Fred Hutter was tried before Justice Cox on a charge of careless driving. The evidence convinced Cox that Hutter backed out of a driveway carelessly, and ran into P. G. Givens' automobile. Hutter was fined $10.

'FILM PIRATES' ARE MENACING MOVIE MEN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—The modern pirate does not sail on the seas, nor does he seek gold in the manner of the pirates in the days of old.

Instead he carries on his pirating by using modern photographic chemicals.

He is known as the "Film Pirate." Film pirates operations are rapidly becoming such a serious menace to exchange men and film producers that co-operative steps must be taken soon in order to curb the practice.

Investigators say that the method of operation is this: An employee, operator or a dishonest manager of film exchanges has access to films that have cost small fortunes to produce and are worth thousands to exchanges and state right holders.

The pirates take such films from the movie houses at the end of a performance and have a copy made. This copy is somewhat dimmer and sometimes flickery, but still is of sufficient quality to be passable. The taking of a copy does not harm the original film.

The pirates are said to send the films to the Orient, the Antipodes and Alaskan countries, where they are less likely to be traced.

Particular watch is now being kept in San Francisco for shipment of these films across the Pacific.

CIRCUS LION BREAKS OUT OF CAGE DURING SHOW, PEOPLE SCARED

SANTA MONICA, Mar. 6.—Several thousand people here today know how it feels to be menaced by an uncaged lion.

During a night performance of the Al G. Barnes circus one of the lions used in a wild animal act escaped from a cage when a number of bolts became loosened.

Roaring frightfully, the lion stood in the arena, surveying the people who had begun a mad rush to the top seats in the stands.

Several score circus employees surrounded the beast and drove him into a cage.

None of the spectators was hurt in the stampede.

SALVATION ARMY PLANTS SPUDS TO CUT COSTS

Captain H. Carroll of the Salvation Army is determined that the present high cost of potatoes is going to have but little effect upon the administration of the commissary department of the Shelter Home conducted at 818 East Third street. The men calling at the home for assistance have been put to work on a piece of land that has been secured and the result is that the plot has been plowed and planted to potatoes.

According to the February report that Captain Carroll made public today, the Salvation Army during the past month gave out 915 free meals, has supplied 424 free beds, has given away 69 garments and 37 pairs of shoes.

A big pile of wood has been cut up from trees given to the Salvation Army and Captain Carroll has had to refuse trees as he has no more space to stack wood.

Jobs were found during February for 72 men and 15 women.

Captain Carroll said today: "We are badly in need of clothing. If the good people of Santa Ana would hunt up their old garments and ring up 483 W. the Army wagon would call. I have not succeeded yet in bringing up my income to $100 per month, so any financial help towards this work would be greatly appreciated, as the need is very great."

"Since November 5, 3861 meals have been supplied as well as 1704 beds, 140 pairs of shoes and 299 garments; 158 jobs have been found for men and 24 for women."

"Wood has been given to needy ones."

"The jail is visited every Sunday and the prisoners if they need it are helped to find work when they get out or are sheltered until they find work. Of course a number leave town but if any want to make good they are given a chance. A drawing class has been started on Saturday afternoons for the children in addition to the regular Army meetings during the week."

"The Shelter is open for inspection to any who care to visit it."

"The need is indeed great. Anyone who would like to make a donation to this worthy cause should make all checks payable to Salvation Army and addressed to me."

Inauguration Week

is at hand and Woodrow Wilson is seated in the White House for another presidential term. Once every four years since 1789, beginning with George Washington, this republic has inaugurated a president. Powerful parties and great men have risen to power and passed away but our Inauguration ceremony still survives.

The inauguration of Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States means to the nation what the installation of Natural Gas means to the modern housewife. The Santa Ana home today that does not have this great convenience, Natural Gas, for cooking, heating and lighting purposes is like a nation without a president.

Gas is the most indispensable item in the modern home. It is essential to comfort in every household. Gas lessens the burden of the housewife. It eliminates waste, and is the most economical of all fuels for cooking, heating and lighting.

This week, while the nation is inaugurating its twenty-seventh president, many local housewives are planning the installation of a new and superior fuel, Natural Gas. This product places the home directly on the road to economy.

Join the constantly growing army of forty thousand satisfied consumers and order Natural Gas today.

It solves the fuel problem.

VISSEL SUGGESTS NEW FIRE HALL AND REMOVAL OF OLD JAIL

BIRCH AND BUSH

PAVING NOT SETTLED

Visel Wants City to Pay One-fourth the Cost of Paving
Bristol Street

A new city fire house and the removal of the old city jail on Sycamore street between Second and Third streets were suggestions made at the meeting of the City Trustees last night. They were made by Mayor Visel, who did not go further into the subject than to say that those two projects should be considered in connection with the contemplated call for bonds for bridges and an outfall sewer.

From last night's meeting of the City Trustees there came enough committee work to keep some of the councilmen busy a goodly share of the time between now and the meeting of the board next Monday night. Several petitions for sidewalks and other street work were referred to committees for investigation, and some of the street paving controversies were not yet ready for decision. The chances are that next Monday night the council will take action upon the paving of Bush, Halesworth, Birch, Barton and possibly some other streets that have been contemplated in paving plans.

On Parton Street

A petition for paving Parton street between Hickey and Washington avenue was referred back to the contractor for correction. It was stated that a total frontage of 2768 feet, 1640 had signed and 1025 was non-resident.

A petition for sidewalking West Nineteenth was referred to Trustees Tubbs and Greenleaf. To the same committee went a petition for sidewalk on Lime street between Ross and Parton. That committee is also to report upon the advisability of granting a petition for sidewalks and curbs on Custer street from Stafford

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Jitney Bondsman
City Clerk Vegely read a letter received from the state insurance commissioner concerning the Golden State Indemnity Company. That letter stated that the company was recently given permission to do business. It is capitalized for $100,000, of which $25,000 has been paid in and has been invested by the state department for the benefit of the insured. Santa Ana's interest in the company is that it is the one that is now writing jitney bonds for Santa Ana. Further reports on the standing of the company are sought.

Fertilizer Sold
A bid of $250 for the first year and $250 for the second year was put in by Shelley Horton for the manure from the city barns and from street sweepings. Greenleaf and McPhee said they thought bids should be advertised for. Tubbs, Maryatt and Visel voted to award the contract to Horton, as he offered $25 more per year than the city had ever received for the manure.

A hole in the sidewalk at the southwest corner of Third and Sycamore was ordered fixed at the city's expense.

Birch and Bush

As chairman of the committee looking up the paving petition for Birch between Hickey and Tenth, Greenleaf asked further time. Of 2433 feet frontage, it was stated that 710 is non-resident and 774 is signed for paving.

Further time was also asked for considering the petition for paving Bush between Washington and Santa Clara. Tubbs said that there is talk of not trying to pave north of Twentieth street, as nearly all of the frontage north of that street is protesting and only three have signed the petition. South of Twentieth a percentage of probably 70 is signed up. A. L. Dearing entered into a statement of the position of the protesting property owners, declaring the work not a necessity. The matter is still awaiting a report of the committee.

Camp Meeting Road
C. S. Minter and N. H. Leonard urged that some action be taken to establish and put to grade the camp meeting road running west from North Flower street a few rods north of the Santiago creek. This road is on the city line, and co-operation with the county will be necessary. Greenleaf and Maryatt were named as a committee to report next Monday night.

Further time was asked by McPhee for reporting on a proposal for a sidewalk on Highland street.

Up to Committee
A petition for opening up a street running east and west 360 feet north of Bishop street, between Shelton and rlower streets, was referred to Tubbs and McPhee for a report. It was stated that the indications are that property owners on both sides would desire to make the road.

A letter was received from Mrs. R. A. Cushman as secretary of the Woman's Civics Club, thanking the city for the use of the city hall and complimenting the janitor for courtesies extended to the club.

Tubbs and Maryatt were named as a committee to report upon a further protest concerning the controversy over the paving of Halesworth street.

Gas Kills Trees
McPhee stated that there are a number of gas leaks under the street surface between Fourth and Fifth on Van Ness. Practically all of the trees in the block have been killed. Gas coming up through the ground caught fire recently. He said that the saddies of the old pipe are leaking because the washers have become defective from the effect of natural gas.

McPhee said that while he hated to see the street torn up, it appeared that there was no escape.

Bristol Street
"How do the people on Bristol street feel about the proposal to pave that street?" asked McPhee.

"They are very outspoken in their views," said Mayor Visel. "They feel that it is a great injustice for this city to require them to pay the entire cost of the improvement, which is designed for the benefit of the entire city. I would like to see the city pay for at least one-fourth of the cost, which, altogether, will be $17,000."

"Where can we find the money?" asked McPhee.

The only answer seems to be

Tubbs said he favored the city paying for part of the cost, as the paving will be for the benefit of the entire city.

Last night an ordinance establishing the official grade for the street was passed.

Fire Hall and Jail
"Shall we take up for discussion now some steps for calling for a bond election?" asked Visel. "We are considering the building of two new bridges and an outfall sewer, and we also might consider building a new fire hall and the removal of the old city jail."

It was decided to postpone discussion to another time.

Maryatt stated that regulations for the installation of gas heaters is covered thoroughly in the new building ordinance being completed, and a separate ordinance is not needed.

A petition to put a curb on Olive street between First and Fourth streets was referred to Greenleaf and Tubbs for a report.

To Pave Alley
Wells & Bressler got permission to pave the West Seventh street alley between Main and Sycamore.

On McPhee's report, it was decided to lease the five acres of the septic tank farm for $50.

On Street Superintendent O'Brien's suggestion, the P. E. was asked to complete laying heavy rails at Fourth and Main streets. Visel said he had already written to the P. E. about the matter.

NEWPORT BEACH

BEACH TRUSTEES CALL FOR NEW FRANCHISE ON BAY FERRY

Board Moves Cautiously As
Letters From Los Angeles Are Read

NEWPORT BEACH, Mar. 6.—The meeting of the board of trustees last evening might easily have been mistaken for a Chamber of Commerce meeting or some such organization whose primary object it was to boost. There was enthusiasm of all kinds expressed repeatedly which bespoke of progress along many lines of municipal and commercial activity. No one appeared to have any grounch of any kind and important deliberations were carried out after a full discussion was indulged in by the large body of citizens present.

The principal business of the evening centered about the application of Mrs. J. W. Cooley, representing the Monnette interests at Balboa, for a ferry franchise from Palm street across the harbor to Agate street on Balboa Island. The application, received two weeks ago, was at that time referred to the board as a whole and was brought up last evening for action.

A number of citizens and property owners, both residents and non-residents, were present in person to speak upon the matter of a ferry franchise.

Lew H. Wallace, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Commission, was the first speaker for the granting of a ferry franchise. Wallace said:

"I am very much in favor of proceeding in this matter with all possible haste and I would like to have a franchise advertised for, so that the ferry could be in operation this summer."

A. B. Rousseau spoke of the necessity of securing a ferry which would be adequate to handle the business of transporting autos in the event of the routing of the coast boulevard through Newport Beach. He asked to have the application of the Monnette interests read, which was done by the clerk. The main points covered in the application are as follows:

For 40-Year Period
Franchise for a period of forty years to transport passengers and freight from Palm street across to Agate street.

The right to construct and maintain for ferry company's exclusive use, two slips to cost from $1000 to $5000 each.

To construct a ferry boat to cost at least $9000 with a carrying capacity of fifty passengers and six autos.

Dr. Albert S. Soland, commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, said that he hoped that the board would not put anything in the way of securing this ferry at the earliest possible time.

J. P. Greeley spoke of the problematical route of the coast boulevard and dwelt at some length on the subject of haste in carrying out the project.

"The increase of the assessed valuation will more than recompense the city for what they feel they are giving away," said Greeley.

Mrs. J. W. Cooley spoke of the importance of securing people with money to locate here and of her efforts to interest Mr. Monnette in the purchase and development of his Balboa property.

Trustee George P. Wilson said he was very much in favor of seeing a ferry in operation to Balboa Island.

President S. R. Jumper made his position clear when he said that he was in favor of granting a franchise, not any franchise, but one which would be advantageous to both the grantor and grantee. "We must satisfy," guard the city's interest," he said.

Mentions Problems
Trustee J. C. McCain spoke of the many different problems which the city would be required to face in the granting of a ferry franchise and, with Trustee Robinson, counseled against undue haste in granting a franchise without proper advice and deliberation. McCain said he had spoken with certain officials in Los Angeles concerning the general subject of ferry franchises and had the clerk read a few letters he had received from those experienced in dealing with such matters.

The letters read by the clerk were from C. H. Matson, secretary of the Los Angeles Harbor Commission, signed by Matson and concurred in by Mayor Woodman, from Councilman J. S. Corwell of Los Angeles, and from H. C. Ozgood. These letters, although not being in any way against the granting of franchises in general, cautioned against giving away municipal rights by long term and indeterminate franchises, as justified by the experience of the city of Los Angeles.

McCain made a motion that the matter be put in the hands of the city attorney to draw up a franchise which would be favorable alike to the city and the Monnette interests. This was carried unanimously.

The resignation of Plumbing Inspector A. R. Lott was received and accepted and C. A. Barton appointed to fill the position.

Resolution No. 70, providing for the institution of condemnation proceedings to secure title to necessary real estate on the shore end of the jetty, was passed unanimously by the board and the legal proceedings will be started without delay.

No Agreement Reached
The city has been unable thus far to arrive at a mutually satisfactory settlement with Joseph Ferguson, the owner of the land in question; hence the action.

Ferguson contends that the land the city desires to purchase is assessed by the city for more than three times what the city offers him for it. He states that he has no desire to be unfair in the matter or become an obstacle in the way of development, claiming that he desires only a fair price for his property. It is hoped by everyone that a mutually satisfactory settlement can be reached without a suit, but should that not be the case, the every effort will be made to arrange matters so that no unnecessary delays will be occasioned by the condemnation proceedings.

The matter of building a bulkhead and sidewalk at Balboa along the ocean front was brought up and after several property owners from the East End had spoken in behalf of the project, Trustees McCain and Wilson were appointed a committee to arrange an assessment district and act with the city engineer to draw up plans and specifications for the construction of a wooden sidewalk and bulkhead.

The board then adjourned for one week.

WRITING ARTICLES ON ORANGE COUNTY

McDannald Has Two-Page
Write-up Coming In the Next Rural World

Several months ago I made the acquaintance of C. L. Schufeldt editor and chief potentate of the Rural World, a publication devoted to agricultural pursuits, and up-to-date farm-life topics. Taking advantage of a credulous disposition, this man has drained my vocabulary of "information on the farm" as dry as an old forgotten moprag and some of the hoops have fallen off, and I have trouble in keeping the staves in place.

After I had gone all over the map, from Genesis to Revelations, he came back at me a couple of weeks ago, and offered to print a two page story of Orange county, free of any expenses, if I could supply the story. I could no more dismiss the glittering chance than Jim Metzger could overlook an opportunity to tell a tenderfoot "that a home in Orange county bridges the gap between certainty and despair."

I sensed this old think tank so carefully, there is not left a pollywog for seed. I sent in 4000 words, and the "story" will appear this week. Previous to this, I have written eight "leading" articles for the World, and in each of them, injected as much county advertising as the editor would stand for.

We have had a greater number of tourists during the months of January and February than for the same period for the past three years. My daily average in the lecture room, since January 1, has been sixty-seven, and I have talked at my desk to an average of thirty-eight. There have been more requests for Orange county literature than ever before since I have been here. I have mailed away 809 pieces and over 4000 places have been carried away by individuals.

A. S. Bradford expressed me the entire collection of his famous table display of 125 varieties of citrus fruits, and the attempt to describe the interest it is creating, would be utterly impossible. Within the past four weeks I have escorted thirty-two people (all strangers) over the county, and several have decided to remain. In the last party of sixteen, one-fourth of them were bankers, and one of them, Edward Nelson, of Rockford, Ill., will return to buy a Valencia orange grove, as soon as he can arrange his affairs, "back home." M. Q. Baker, a York State banker, wants to invest in a good block of unimproved land, somewhere in Orange county. Mrs. T. Lynch of Holville came in Saturday to consult me about the dairy prospects. that appeals to her, hubby will come here to locate.

I met a man from Calgary last week who has 800 acres of choice wheat land he would like to exchange for Orange county realty. None others need apply.

John Brandt and wife of Baker City, Ore., were with me on one trip, and when they bade me "good-bye" the woman said: "You can look for us before another snow flake dots the landscape next fall."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Best, of San Francisco, made several trips over the county and finally selected a tract near Placentia that suited them. Mrs. Best was in to see me Saturday and said the deal was under way.

ONCE MESSENGER BOY, IS NOW COLLEGE HEAD

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Mar. 6.—Plain red-headed Marion Burton 25 years ago came to Minneapolis, opened up Tom Gardiner's Nicollet avenue drug store, swept it out, and delivered packages for the store, seven days a week, for $6 a week, from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Today, Dr. Marion Le Roy Burton is president of the University of Minnesota, at a salary of $10,000 annually. But he is the same Marion, and all he says about the change is that he did his best.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folk call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

U. S. NAVY PRO-ALLY BRITISH ARE TOLD

LONDON, Mar. 6.—(By Mail)—The British public was told today that the United States is pro-ally. As authority for this statement, the London Morning Post publishes a letter from W. H. Stayton, executive secretary of the United States Navy League which accompanied a friendly message from the directors of that body to the British Navy League.

"I hope," writes Mr. Stayton, "you will notice that in our December issue of 'Sea Power' we asked for aid for the British orphans of the Jutland fight. Of course, some of our Teutonic fellow-citizens have shrieked at our lack of neutrality, but we have had the pleasure of sending to his Royal Highness Prince Louis of Battenburg a sum collected from many people.

"There are times when we feel that the sayings and doings of our administration may mislead you as to the sentiments of our people. In our Central and Western States, there are undoubtedly pro-Germans, but through the course of the war I have personally heard only one man express a view favorable to the Huns. The great body of our people, and especially all connected with the navy, know that you are fighting the battle of liberty and civilization, and that we are playing none too worthy a part."

Dr. Enoch, phone 602W. 411 1/2, Main.

After You—What?

What would become of your affairs if you were to die tonight? You have gathered your possessions by planning and foresight. Have you considered what others must do to conserve your interests when you are gone? Have you thought that the kind of assets most useful to a business man would greatly embarrass a woman or child? With your experienced judgment controlling it and your training pushing it, your business might go on forever. Without you, it would not, unless your equal took your place, and then only if he owned it. Another would not push that business for your wife or child as you push it. Whose judgment may be trusted to dispose of that business? Don't leave it to chance. Then, when your business is turned into money and your life insurance is added to it, what will your wife and children do with the money? They need advisors, and you should select them and make them your executors. The income of your loved ones must be a safe and steady one. Don't choose a man to arrange it who has never owned an investment security or income property. Choose the Orange County Trust & Savings Bank. They have the men that are trained for just such work. Come in and consult them in confidence and discuss your plans with them. If their ideas do not impress you, no harm is done and it costs you nothing.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

ANAHEIM JUNIOR COLLEGE LOSES DUAL MEET TO HUNTINGTON

Beach Men By Score of 72 to 58 Returned Victors In Close Contest

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Mar. 6.—Very little was done in the matter of Athletics at the High School during the first part of last week on account of extra examinations but the latter part of the week saw the scholarship skins brighter and a dual meet with Anaheim Junior College took place Friday afternoon. The Anaheim team was not large but included a few very good athletes. The locals were somewhat crippled as Cady was out of the contests entirely because of lack of condition. Huntington Beach won the meet in the final round-up by the score of 72 to 58. It was by no means a one-sided contest and for a while near the latter part of the meet it looked as though Anaheim was going to finish in the lead. But victory in the relay combined with first place in the running broad saved the day for the home team.

The summary of events is as follows:

Javelin—Chamberlain of Anaheim, first; Preston and Jones of Huntington Beach, second and third.

Discus—Chamberlain, Anaheim, first; Celenberger, Anaheim, second; Preston, Huntington Beach, third.

Shot—Chamberlain, Anaheim, first; Price, Huntington Beach, second; Lemon, Huntington Beach, third.

High Jump—Howard and Alford, Huntington Beach, first and second; Sims and Chamberlain, Anaheim, tied for third.

Running Broad Jump—Preston, Huntington Beach, first; Chamberlain, Anaheim, second; Sims, Anaheim, third.

Pole Vault forfeited to Huntington Beach.

ELEPHANTS are among the principal performers at Cole Bros. Wild and Domestic Animal circus. The big show will be here March 8th.

COLE BROS. CIRCUS

Cole Bros. present a Real Wild and Domestic Trained Animal Show, educated horses, ponies, mules, zebras, lions, tigers, leopards, hyenas, dogs, pigs, seals, and sea lions, dogs, pigs, in fact the animals of the earth. It is by the constant study of the natures and habits, in the forest, jungles, and at a close range that the trainers of Cole Bros. Shows have evolved a system of animal education.

Among the many feature acts is that of Herr Louis Roth and his group of performing black-maned African lions. Herr Roth is Europe's most noted wild animal trainer and his lion act is recognized as the most sensational of its kind before the public today.

Miss Mabel Stark, the girl with the mixed group of leopards and panthers, a dainty bit of French femininity, whose fearless act with eight of these ferocious beasts has duplicated her European success here in one season.

Madame Rogers and her blue ribbon winning liberty and waiting horses. This daring horsewoman has been a prime favorite at the Circus Schuman in Berlin, Germany. Her horses are as marvelous both as to performance and perfect specimens of horseflesh.

Madame Bertina and her beautiful white Arabian horses in a magnificent equine statuary display. One of the most fascinating numbers.

A series of living correctness as to art and the minutest details, truly a pictorial delight, depicting the following pictures: "Military Attention," "Home Sweet Home," "Treaty of Peace," "Love," "Statue of Liberty," "Cheerful Gardner and his herd of performing elephants. These mastodons of the animal world, interpret difficult drills, the latest dancing numbers, including the now famous "Salome" dance, form pyramids and living statuary pictures, play provoking and clownish pranks, in which "Myrtle," the largest clown in the world, takes a leading part.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rainey of Black River Falls, Wis., were guests of Ralph C. Turner last week.

H. M. Cooper and son Cecil of Whitler, called upon friends in Huntington Beach last week. Mr. Cooper for a number of years was proprietor of the meat market in the grocery store now owned by W. M. Adair. At present he is a representative of the Standard Oil Company.

A box social will be given by the Epworth League of the Methodist church on Tuesday evening of this week.

The regular election of officers of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon. Reports will be heard from the superintendents of the various departments.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club, for the transaction of business, preliminary to the annual election of officers was held Tuesday afternoon at the club house. Miss Bertha Proctor, Mrs. W. C. O'Connor and Mrs. Arthur E. Paine were the hostesses of the occasion. The club is making many steps forward in its methods of transacting business and the new bylaws were put in final shape and adopted at this meeting. A number of candidates were placed in nomination for the various offices.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker have removed to Smelter where Mr. Walker is employed by the Golden West Cattle and Produce Co.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Benning of Lyons, N. Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Benning of Tenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McIntyre, formerly of this city but more recently of Delhi where Mr. McIntyre is connected with the business of the sugar factory, were called to Colorado last week by the serious illness of Mrs. McIntyre's mother. Mrs. McIntyre has been in the hospital for a number of weeks and is not in the best of health even yet.

Charles G. Stover has returned from Watts, where he visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stover.

Paul Francis Ross, the five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Ross of Main street, died Saturday. The funeral was held Tuesday.

Those not dancing enjoyed cards. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Gale S. Berkey, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. S. Floyd Keener, Mrs. Harry Ames, Miss Mildred Yale, Miss Bessie Day, Miss Julia French, Miss Hazel Harding, Miss Norma Lorbeer, Miss Centh Wilson, Miss Amy Thompson, Miss Sylvia Ames, Miss Marguerite Ames, Miss Flora Heil, Miss Hazel Rennick, Messrs. Leon Yale, Wesley Yale, Dean Culver, Lewis Blodgett, John French, C. S. Huntington, Chas. Rigdon, Elson Conrad.

What have everything in produce. What have you? Good quality apples, onions, potatoes. C. C. Produce Co., 311 N. Broadway. Phone 615-J.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

PLAN TO ENLARGE THE ORPHANS HOME

Proposed to Raise $5,000 For Erecting Cottages For the Little Folks

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 5.—A reception was held at the Seaside Orphans' Home Saturday from 12 o'clock until 3:30 for the purpose of giving the citizens of the community an opportunity to become better acquainted with the work which the home is doing. Miss Augusta Lobb of Los Angeles is president of the board of trustees which has charge of the work of the Home. Miss Minnie Christensen is in charge and is to be assisted by Mrs. Peoples, who has recently come to Huntington Beach for that purpose.

In addition to prominent local people there were a number present from Los Angeles who are interested in the work of the Home.

The workers are very desirous of building a modern orphanage on the cottage plan in order to accommodate more children and in order to take certain cases which cannot now be accommodated. It is understood that tentative plans have been drawn for a $5,000 plant and that when this amount is subscribed it is hoped that a donation of a proper site can be obtained from the Huntington Beach Company.

Quite an elaborate dinner was served after which Miss Lamb called upon General Donovan, Mr. Williams and Rev. R. J. Coyne for short talks with reference to the field of work covered by the organization.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

TENT CITY EXPECTS SUMMER TO BE BEST

Plans Are Made For Making the Place More Convenient For Patrons

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 5.—The Tent City Company is now making preparations for the summer season, most of the open dates at Tent City having been taken by the various organizations which are accustomed to make this city their headquarters during the summer. The Grand Army will have its camp here for the thirtieth consecutive year and the date chosen for the meeting is August 7 to 17, which is one week earlier than last year.

The local organization is making plans to see to it that this year surpasses all previous years in the pleasure and profit of the encampment. Many improvements will be made on the grounds and there will be something doing on the grounds from now until the end of August.

"Pape's Diapiesin" Fixes Sick, Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes

—You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its quick relief in indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis, when caused by acidity, has made it famous the world over.

Keep this wonderful stomach sweetener in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach it helps to neutralize the excessive acidity, then all the stomach distress caused by it disappears. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming such stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.—Advertisement.

The Hadden Sprinkling System for Small or Large Lawns.

YOU DON'T NEED TO BE A GARDENER TO HAVE A BEAUTIFUL LAWN

The secret of a beautiful lawn is all a question of sufficient and even distribution of water.

Give your lawn enough to drink and do it at the proper time, and you will find it fresh, green and beautiful always.

But you can't properly water a lawn with a hose or with a little sprinkler. You get too much water in some spots and too little in others.

THE ONLY WAY

Invention and science have produced the Hadden Sprinkling System by which you save 90 per cent labor and 40 to 50 per cent of your monthly water bill. The Hadden System does away with the hose entirely. It distributes water uniformly and eliminates loss through evaporation.

We install the Hadden Sprinkling System without injuring your lawn in the least. Let us furnish you an estimate (Free) now and you will have a beautiful lawn this summer.

Why Buy Your Meats of Us?

Young, choice cattle having been selected pass through our slaughtering house and curing departments and are carefully prepared. We put our whole experience behind this process, and the result is uniformity—always the same rich flavor.

Our steaks, chops, hams and bacon have that distinguishing flavor. They are juicy, tender, delicious.

Then, there is another point:

When you buy meat of us, you do it with satisfying pleasure. Our sanitary markets, show cases, refrigerating system and general neatness are an "appetizing" asset. The further fact that ours is the only absolutely home market, operating a slaughtering house in Santa Ana and employing local help makes trading with us a pleasure. You keep your dollar at home.
